CORPUS CHRISTI – Year B

Next Door III (Corpus Christi): The food and drink of neighbourly love

Fr Mark writes:

We are in the third week of our series we are calling Next Door: The Art of Neighbouring. The premise of this series is that God wants you to be an instrument of his goodness and grace in your neighbourhood. Today we are moving on to another step you can take when it comes to the art of neighbouring. This step is the most challenging one yet.

To help us we are going to look at a passage from the Gospel of Mark just before Jesus' death. Mark writes,

"On the first day of Unleavened Bread, when the Passover lamb was sacrificed, his disciples said to Jesus, 'Where do you want us to go and make the preparations for you to eat the passover?'" (Mark 14:18)

The Passover was one of many feasts that the Jewish people celebrated annually. Throughout the Old Testament God commanded his people to gather together to mark significant historic events of his goodness and grace. And some of these celebrations, like our own, included eating and drinking. Throughout the Gospels, Jesus himself observed the Passover and the other Jewish feasts. He also regularly spent time in fellowship with friends, often over meals. Many of his most important teachings were delivered over meals. In fact, he spent so much time at dinner parties that the religious leaders unfairly accused him of being a glutton and a drunkard.

These same leaders were not only astonished at how much time Jesus spent at meals but by who he dined with. They were outraged that he would eat with tax collectors and sinners. Because, of course, there is so much more to a meal than food. There is a spiritual and social dimension to it as well.

Jesus would eat with people who were far from God and this was a source of scandal to the religious people. But Jesus cared more about reaching the irreligious than he did about religious rule keeping. And, as a result, people who were nothing like him liked him. This is a pattern seen over and over again in the gospel.

So the disciples, who knew it would be important to him, asked about preparations for the Passover. Jesus goes to a great deal of trouble to arrange this meal with the apostles because he knows it will be the last meal with them before he dies.

"The disciples set out and went to the city and found everything as he had told them, and prepared the Passover." (Mark 14:21)

The Passover supper was governed by ancient traditions reaching back to the story of the Exodus in which God freed the Israelites from slavery in Egypt. For the Israelites to escape Egypt, each household sacrificed and consumed a lamb. So, according to tradition, to celebrate the Passover, you had to have a lamb (notice there's no lamb mentioned in this story).

While they were eating, he took bread, said the blessing, broke it, and gave it to them, and said, "Take it; this is my body." (Mark 14:22)

The Israelites escaped sin and slavery and received God's grace and blessing by sacrificing and receiving the Passover lamb. Through his passion and death on the Cross, Jesus becomes the Lamb who is sacrificed. That's why there is no lamb at their Passover dinner. Jesus himself is the lamb: the Lamb of God who takes away the sins of the world. By asking the disciples to take the bread that is his body, Jesus is inviting them to receive the sacrifice, as the Israelites received their Passover sacrifice.

Jesus tells the apostles that the bread is his body. He means this in a very real way. We believe that the bread really becomes Jesus' body, that at every Mass the bread changes substance, we call it transubstantiation. The bread becomes his body, the wine his blood, by the power of the Holy Spirit.

Then he took a cup, gave thanks, and gave it to them, and they all drank from it. He said to them, "This is my blood of the covenant, which will be shed for many." (Mark 14:23)

Ancient covenants were sealed with blood. That's our first reading, referring back to the Exodus, or escape from Egypt:

Then Moses took the blood of the sacrifice and sprinkled it on the people saying "This is the blood of the covenant, which will be shed for many." (Exodus 24.8)

It sounds strange to us, but the blood was meant to show the seriousness of a bond. Like blood relatives, it is a bond that can't be broken. A family bond. Jesus says that the new covenant will be sealed not with the blood of an animal sacrifice, but with his own blood, poured out on the cross.

"This is the blood of the covenant, which will be shed for many." (Exodus 24.8)

'Many' does not mean that Jesus only shed his blood for some select group of people, or just church people, or religious people. But for many, many people, as many as are willing to receive his sacrifice. That even means the people in your neighbourhood. In fact, every single one of your neighbours, even the mean ones, even the crazy ones, even the ones who don't like you, the ones who argue about the garden fence. These are all people for whom Jesus died. He wants them to be part of his family. As Christians, our challenge is to constantly look at people through this lens.

Today is the Feast of Corpus Christi. The Church gives us this feast as a reminder that we do really receive Christ in the Eucharist. He is really present. Among the innumerable graces of this great gift, the Eucharist is community-forming. The Eucharist is the source and the summit of our faith. Without the Eucharist there is no Church. With it, we are formed into a community, unified for a purpose. We receive Christ so that we become like him: to share the good news of God's love in the world.

But where to start, how to begin?

We can pray. We can pray for neighbours we know, and those we don't. Last week, we laid out the challenge to get to know some of our neighbours' names. And then, praying for them by name, and greeting them by name. But we can do more, too. Jesus started with food, so why don't we start with food..? Set a date on a calendar and a goal that by the end of this summer you are going to do something to show love of neighbours through food. I know that's not as easy during these COVID times but it's still something many of us can do, even in simple ways.

God uses a meal to build his Church, to reconcile and renew the whole world. We can follow his lead and take this simple step too. And then trust God to use it in some way, in a way that maybe we can't even see or ever know. Simply trust God to do something sacred with it.

During this time, we will continue with daily mass but won't be celebrating 7pm mass, except on special Feast Days (and their vigils, where appropriate). We will, however, aim to "re-broadcast" the daytime mass at 7pm each day so that those who've been joining us regularly at that time can continue without interruption. Please bear with us if we don't quite get it right straight away! The masses will also be available to watch at any time by clicking on the link to see "recorded services" from the home page of the website – www.catholicwinchester.org.uk As always, please see the newsletter each week for the mass timetable.

Pastoral Letter This Weekend

Bishop Philip has sent a Pastoral Letter which will be read at all masses this weekend. On this Feast of Corpus Christi, our Diocese will begin a special Year of the Eucharist and in his letter, Bishop Philip expresses his wish for this Year of the Eucharist 'to bring about a deep spiritual renewal, a deeper love for Jesus in the Mass and in the Sacrament of the Altar'. Please use the following link to read Bishop Philip's words <https://catholicwinchester.org.uk/wp-content/uploads/2021/06/Pastoral-letter-6-June.pdf> A video is also available here <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=QI7D6kuznhQ> Paper copies will be available in our churches for those who are unable to access the online version.

"Year of the Eucharist"

Bishop Philip has called for a "Year of the Eucharist", which will launch on this Solemnity of Corpus Christi (6th June). This follows on from the Year of the Word "The God Who Speaks," and is part of our ten-year mission of spiritual renewal. We will be exploring in our own parish how best we might mark this year, which will continue until Christmas 2022. You can find a booklet with more details here.

Christ at the Centre - Blessing of the Tabernacle at St. Stephen's

We are marking the beginning of the Year of the Eucharist by blessing the recently re-installed tabernacle at St. Stephen's. The early church fathers referred to Mary as the first tabernacle, the dwelling place of God. In modern Catholicism, the tabernacle is used to keep the Eucharist outside the liturgy. That way, the body and blood of Christ are available for delivering the sacrament to the sick and to provide an opportunity for prayer and adoration. The tabernacle is more than an object. It's an ancient symbol. The term tabernacle illustrates the history of God's desire to be in our midst. It's a physical reminder that God desires to "pitch his tent among us". God dwells with us. God protects us. God nourishes us. So, we come before a tabernacle. And we pray that we may know that our God is in our midst. Because with that knowledge, all things are possible. I am delighted once more that we may find the real presence of "Christ at the centre", as the living heart of our church of St. Stephen's, so that he may be with us and with our school, physically among us, to nourish us, comfort us, strengthen us and for us to adore Him.

Canon Peter Wilkie, known to many of you and loved by all who know him, will shortly be moving house from Winchester to a flat in Ringwood, near to Canon Paul Townsend. The main reason for moving is that he will no longer have to contend with stairs, which are starting to become difficult. We thank him for all he has contributed to the parish during his time here and we will keep him very much in our thoughts and prayers.

Children's Liturgy Online

Our Children's Liturgy of the Word is continuing, however, please note:

If you have not recently registered, please register again as the programme has moved to a different account. Apologies for any inconvenience or extra hassle this might involve. The current link to register is:

Printable activity & colouring sheets are put up in advance on the website: click on the link on the website homepage

PRAYER CORNER: Each week, this section will contain an intercession that I hope every parishioner will pray for during the coming week. In this way, we will all pray to the Lord for the parish's mission, because "if the Lord does not build... in vain do the builders labour" (Ps 127:1) Fr. Mark

This Week's Intention: On this feast of Corpus Christi, let us pray especially for our First Holy Communion families, their Catechists and our Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion, that the gift of the Eucharist will bring them and many others closer to Christ in hope and joy.

PLEASE PRAY FOR the repose of the souls of those who have died recently:

The Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ - Corpus Christi
Holy Hour at St Peter's church - Sunday 6th June

This feast helps us focus on the Holy Eucharist. At the heart of every Mass are the bread and wine that, by the words of Christ and the invocation of the Holy Spirit, become the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ, His Real Presence. Today's celebration also draws our attention to the fact that we too, as the Church, are the Body of Christ. To help us celebrate this great feast, there will be Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament from 2pm – 3pm this Sunday 6th June which will conclude with the recitation of the Divine Mercy Chaplet at 3pm. 'We, the Body of Christ receive the Body of Christ to become the Body of Christ to all we meet'.

St Peter's Flower Team - We are very fortunate to have a wonderful and very talented team who create and maintain the beautiful flower displays that decorate our churches. The team at St Peters are currently keen to 'grow' their group of volunteers and would like people to consider joining them as much help is needed over the course of the year. Please read on to see if this could be your budding talent waiting to blossom!
 "No qualification is needed, it would simply involve taking a turn to do a flower arrangement and then looking after it for two weeks, watering as necessary. An arrangement can be for a special intention like an anniversary. Christmas and Easter are particularly special because everyone comes together to help and we really enjoy the camaraderie. Please think about it and offer your help; if you're not sure about it, you could shadow one of us to see what we do - all that is required is simply a love of flowers to grace our Church."
 Contact details may be left with Michaela in the Parish Office.

Scam Alert – please be very careful about emails allegedly from Fr Mark. ANY email from him will be from a Portsmouth Diocese email address, in addition to his full signature with his job titles. And he is not asking favours from you... Please always be careful and stay safe online.

Winchester Catholic History Society - We very much regret that the live talk scheduled for Wednesday 23 June by Dr Giles Mercer on St Thomas More has been postponed until next Season when the Parish Centre reopens.

The Parish Laudato si group has a vision!

'To Bring People Closer to Jesus Through Care of our Common Home'

This week's tip: Did you know? Chemical based cleaning products have drawbacks. They're pricey, they may trigger health issues, and their manufacture and disposal is harmful for the environment. Try this alternative when cleaning your windows. Fill an empty spray bottle with 50/50 white vinegar and water and use a microfibre cloth to clean your windows and mirrors.

Follow us on Face book to find out more!

Together, we really can make a difference.

Winchester Street Pastors - As we 'unlock' as a community, Street Pastors are back out late once again, to the relief and delight of the city, its people and our volunteers. They are currently looking for more much needed volunteers to ensure they can continue to offer Winchester's people reassurance, safety and support, by listening, caring and helping at weekends. Please see below for further information.

Phones for people seeking asylum - Mobile phones are badly needed by the Southampton and Winchester Visitors Group for people seeking asylum. Without a functioning smartphone people can't keep in touch with friends and family, attend online lessons, read the news or use language-learning apps. We would be very grateful for unwanted iPhones 6 or above, or Android phones which can comfortably run at least Android 7. You can check your Android version here: support.google.com/android/answer/7680439?hl=en-GB.
