Third Sunday in Ordinary Time - Year C

The Story of Your Life – Overcoming your Regrets with God's Strength

Fr Mark writes:

We have begun the New Year thinking about stories. We like stories. From the time we are children, we love stories. Your story matters... but... perhaps not the way you might expect. Your story isn't important because of you, it's important because of God, and his role in your story.

This weekend we want to look at part of our story that we don't like to think about or talk about. It is, though, essential to living a better story that we embrace it and run towards it instead of running away from it.

We are going to look at this passage from the Old Testament book of Nehemiah. It is a great story in and of itself...Nehemiah is a Jew, living in Persia at the palace, when one day he learns the real story about his native land. Jerusalem has fallen into disrepair, her walls are ruined. Nehemiah hears about the situation and it really bothers him, throwing him into a kind of depression, so much so that the king noticed the change in his personality.

So one day, Nehemiah takes a great risk and asks the king if he can take a sort of sabbatical to lead a rebuilding effort and, in addition, if the king will give him the supplies and military resources to get the job done. Unexpectedly, the king says yes, appointing Nehemiah governor of Judah. Eventually Nehemiah rallies the people of Jerusalem to rebuild the walls, and despite all kinds of obstacles and adverse conditions and critics and the threat of conflict, they get the job done with exceptional speed!

At the end of the project, the people gathered for a celebration, which begins with a worship service. The first thing they do is listen to Scripture: Ezra the priest brought the Law before the assembly, consisting of men, women, and children old enough to understand. (Nehemiah 8.3)

So the priest is reading from the Bible, specifically the first five books of the Bible which are called the Torah, or the 'Law of Moses'. The people had probably never heard the word of God before because it had been forgotten and neglected, like the city walls. This was new to them and they listened attentively.

The Bible goes on to say,

In full view of all the people – since he stood higher than all the people – Ezra opened the book; and when he opened it all the people stood up. Then Ezra blessed the Lord, the great God, and all the people raised their hands and answered, 'Amen! Amen!' Then they bowed down and, face to the ground, prostrated themselves before the Lord. (Nehemiah 8.5-6)

Nehemiah then tells us:

the people were all in tears as they listened to the words of the Law. (Nehemiah 8.9)

As the law of God was read and people heard it, they realised in their ignorance that they had broken so much of it. They began to recognise this huge gap between their lives and God's standard. Essentially they had abandoned their faith and walked away from God. This recognition fills them with regret. They come to see how God had wanted them to live and the beauty of his commands. They simply did not know the good news of the great life God wanted for the people of Israel. They're genuinely sorry for that. But, that is not the end of the story.

'Go, eat the fat, drink the sweet wine, and send a portion to the man who has nothing prepared ready.' (Nehemiah 8.10)

In other words, let's have a party. What's the occasion? Nehemiah tells them...

'For this day is sacred to our Lord. Do not be sad: the joy of the Lord is your stronghold.' (Nehemiah 8.10)

Don't dwell in your regret, he urges them, move beyond it to celebrate what God is doing in your life now. All our stories include regret, which is a consciousness of something negative, a sadness and sorrow for something wrong. If you don't have anything you regret you either don't know you're story very well or you're not being very honest about it. No one gets it right all the time. Inevitably we get something, somehow, somewhere wrong and that is regrettable, and ought to lead us to regret.

- ❖ Maybe your regret is about a friendship that was lost. You had a close friend and you allowed that friendship to fall apart and you regret you didn't work harder at it, and give more to it.
- ❖ Your regret might be at work. At one point, you felt like you should take a stand, you knew without question that what was happening was wrong, but instead of saying anything, you quietly took the path of least resistance.
- ❖ Or maybe there was someone you could have helped and you didn't, and as a result, things went badly for them.

When we come to the places of regret in our story, the temptation is to pretend as if they never happened. And that's understandable, but it's also unhelpful. For one thing, those regrets are part of your story, they are what make you human and real. Denying them and just trying to forget them is mixing up your story.

But there's another reason too.

It is the very things we regret that God wants to redeem. The failures and mistakes that we regret are exactly where we come to know God as our Saviour, as our redeemer. Your relationship with God will grow immeasurably if you face those regrets and bring them back to him. And then you will grow immeasurably too.

God will give you a chance, he will give you an opportunity to redeem those regrets and use them for good.

God can take any of our regrets and rebuild, just like Nehemiah built the city walls from the ruins of the past mistakes of the people.

God can take any regret and rebuild. He can use your regrets for greater purposes, but we have to face them first. We have to recognise them as part of our story and offer them back to him and say,

God, I'm sorry. I apologise for that part of my story. And I thank you for redeeming my regrets.

Better yet, go to confession and say it there.

The people we meet in Nehemiah feel regret. But notice what Nehemiah says:

'Do not be sad: the joy of the Lord is your stronghold.' (Nehemiah 8.10)

Nehemiah is saying, "OK, you've acknowledged your regret and you've apologised. Now, focus on God, find your strength in God and find your joy in that strength."

Don't live in the sadness of your regrets, live in the joy of God's strength.

Whoever you are, whatever station or state of life you're in, whatever your story has been, you can write a different story, a better story.

With God's strength, you can write a better story.

Pope Francis invites us to be a Listening Church

The whole Church throughout the world, at every level, is being invited by the successor to St. Peter to enter into a deep process of listening – to one another and to the Holy Spirit. We too, here in the parish of St. Peter and the Winchester Martyrs, are asked to play our part. The Pope would like us all to reflect deeply on what it is to be Church – and to participate in the early stages of a process that will culminate in a "Synod on Synodality" in 2023 (the word 'synod' comes from a Greek word meaning the 'walking together' (syn-) on a 'particular way' (-hodos)).

The overall theme is "For a Synodal Church: Communion, Participation, Mission" and the starting point is a listening exercise: in parishes, schools and beyond. We would very much value hearing from as many voices as possible – both from within our parish community and from the wider community. We certainly want everyone who wishes to participate to be enabled to do so. This isn't about convening a parliamentary delegation or a lobby group but rather the start of a process of mutual listening, with humility and love, and discerning the voice of the Holy Spirit together.

Fr Mark has asked the parish Evangelisation Strategy Group (ESG) to take a lead on this and he is enormously grateful for the energy and passion with which they've taken up the challenge. Preparations are well underway. Please look out for announcements and invitations to participate in a Listening Session next month, in person or online.

Please pray for our parish as we embark on this journey, and please pray for the whole Synod process, and indeed for the Universal Church.

Discovering More...About our Care for God's Creation We are told by media reports and politicians, in ever more urgent tones, that we are experiencing an environmental crisis. We have received on this subject an encyclical from the Pope, Laudato Si, and a recent pastoral letter from our Bishop. We are told that this is a pressing moral issue. Join with us in discovering more about what the Church teaches on the beautiful mystery of Creation and our place in it, why we are called to care for it, and how we can respond. The sessions will take place on Tuesday 8th, 15th and 22nd February, starting at 7.30pm and will be held in the Pastoral Centre. If you would like to book a place, please use the following link <https://www.ticketsource.co.uk/st-peter-and-the-winchester-martyrs/t-yrzkmoor> email office@stpeterswinchester.org.uk.

PRAYER CORNER: Each week, this section will contain an intercession that I hope every parishioner will pray for during the coming week. In this way, we will all pray to the Lord for the parish's mission, because "if the Lord does not build... in vain do the builders labour" (Ps 127:1) Fr. Mark

This Week's Intention: We pray for the Alpha course starting soon in the parish. May God anoint the team with the gifts they need as they prepare for the new season and may the Lord open the hearts of those who have been invited to take part.

PLEASE PRAY FOR the repose of the souls of those who have died recently:

Kate Gunner RIP
Bernard Groves RIP
Pamela Henry RIP
Antoinette Thomas RIP

Big Garden Birdwatch

Heads Up! Next weekend, 28th to 30th January, is the great Big Garden Bird Watch. The RSPB website has all the information you need to take part and this can be fun for all the family.

Simply count the birds you see in the garden or balcony or park for one hour. We lost 38 million birds from our skies in the last 50 years so it is vital we do all we can to look after our birds. The RSPB website is full of ideas for making your bit of the outdoors bird friendly. Let us know how you got on by contacting Kathy at Keast@stpeterswinchester.org.uk

New Year Climate Pledge Many people signed pledges for actions to protect our planet in line with Pope Francis' encyclical Laudato si'. Thank you for your support! Many of you brought your pledge to one of our churches; here is one of the boards with your post-it note pledges. If you weren't able to bring your pledge to church then please complete a Pledge Survey online by copying this link into your browser...www.surveymonkey.co.uk/r/LL9YKNF

The new candle system in St Peter's church

Have you noticed the new candlestand in St Peter's? Take a look next time you are in there. The old candles, the long slim votives, were beautiful - as anyone who looked out for our candle Facebook posts knows - but they were hazardous, and not popular with insurers. So we're trying something new - with these advantages:

- No smoke damage
- No more plastic or aluminium cups or sand to deal with.
- No more unprotected flames
- Environmentally friendly (they recycle the wax that collects in the water vessel below the candles)
- No more wax spillage on the floors
- Low maintenance
- Self-extinguishing candles (there is a hole in the bottom of the glass holder cup and once the candle has burned down low and liquefied it drops through the hole into the bath of water concealed below)

The St Killians system is used all over the country including over 20 stands in Westminster Cathedral. It's very safe and solid, no chance of setting the church on fire, no more scorch marks on the carpet in the Lady Chapel! The blue glass bases look beautiful when the candles are lit. And - of course - we will always light a candle for you if you send us your intention.

Dear Parents

Junior Road Safety Officers – special lunch!

Our Junior Road Safety Officers, Emily, Fleur, Khyan, Nicholas and Leanne, organised a special school dinner menu on Thursday 20th January:

“We put some work into making school dinners a bit more interesting on Thursday. We are trying to introduce road safety to help keep the school more safe. We organised for a special menu based on road safety. We had Stop Dog, the stop and look hot dog, or Road Safety Pizza – red tomato, amber cheese and green salad, and a Be Seen sponge. We encouraged people to have school dinners on Thursday and to be safe on the road.”
